Boston College Alumni News

COMMENCEMENT, 1942

IN THIS ISSUE

Father Rector makes an important appeal to you through the medium of "The President's Page." His proposal merits serious consideration.

In "Editorial Comment" William H. Marnell considers the bewilderment of an isolationist.

On page 8 will be found a letter explaining the nature of the War Service Advisory Board. Following it George Donaldson has compiled a list of opportunities in the different branches of the armed forces.

It is Commencement time again. The schedule for the week and plans for Alumni Day are given on page 7.

Gene Mack, Jr., and Ed Weiss inform us about the activities of the students in "Student Notes" and "Sports."

If an alumnus has gone into the service, will some member of his family kindly forward the "Alumni News" to him?

VERY REVEREND WILLIAM J. MURPHY, S.J.

✍ This is a frank statement of an urgent problem which now confronts your College. During the past years, those who have been charged with the direction of Boston College have endeavored to extend and to improve its educational services to the limit of its resources. In every case, first consideration has been given to the quality of the service which has been insisted upon with no limit imposed other than that dictated by a prudent financial policy. Pearl Harbor cut across our extended lines of communication. Education is a work of peace, and no other activity, perhaps, suffers more grievously from war. Young men must go to war and must produce for war. The first priority is of man-power; the essential materials of higher education disappear, and college registrations decline sharply. At the same time economic conditions bring about a decrease in the returns from scholarship funds, and cost of operation increases considerably. Certainly the College must look to its Alumni for active and whole-hearted support at this time.

There are two principal courses of action I should like to recommend to the Alumni at present. The first concerns the Loyalty Fund. Recently there has been more than a slight falling off in the contributions made to the Fund. Obviously, there are fewer who can contribute, since so many must enter the armed services. It is then, all the more incumbent upon those who are in a position to do so to contribute more generously than ever.

Secondly, I am returning a proposal which has been placed before the Alumni several times, that of interesting prospective students in the College. It may seem to some that it would be more patriotic to urge the young men to enter the armed forces, or to answer the call for defense workers. Yet, we must keep our eyes fixed not on any single aspect of this total emergency, but upon the general welfare of our country. Should the emergency demand it, the College is ready and eager to turn its buildings into barracks or hospitals or workshops, and its faculty will with enthusiasm, as some have already done, march to the battle-front with our students and alumni, or learn how to operate a lathe. But surely that time has not yet arrived. Even in England, where the demands upon man-power are so very heavy, the policy has been to protect the universities as is clear from the following official statement: "The importance of trained men and women for the current war effort and, although necessarily to a lesser extent, for national well-being after the war, was rightly recognized in satisfying the demand of the services for man-power." Only a few days ago, Secretary Knox in an instruction to the Colleges which had adopted the V-1 Plan wrote: "Please tell your young men who apply for enlistment and training under this plan that they will be serving the nation if they continue their college courses no less than those of your Alumni who are already in active service." Secretary Stimson is a recent communication to the American Association of Colleges stated: "The War Department hopes that the educational activities of the college of the country will be interrupted as little as possible consistent with the Army effort, but it is recognized that very serious interruption may become more and more necessary as time goes on." His statement goes on to list six basic requirements for military leadership that the colleges are eminently qualified to impart. All the plans proposed by the Navy, the Marine Corps, and the Air Service for training specially qualified officer material have been adapted to the curriculum, and have been approved by the various branches. Although the Army has not as yet brought forward any specific plan for collegiate co-operation, yet it has made general recommendations, all of which have been incorporated into our war-time plan of studies. In addition to these, there is always the duty of the colleges to consult the needs of leadership in peace times, which is no less important than the immediate military effort. The correlative of this work of the colleges is the co-operation of students.

It is realized of course that all this may change suddenly, but until it does, our plan must meet the situation realistically. Most students who enter college this year may look forward to completing their work for a degree before they are called up for military duty. But even though a student is able to complete only two-thirds or even one-half of the requirements, it is clear how great an advantage

A Message to the Alumni

JEREMIAH W. MAHONEY, President

I shall not review the activities of your Association during the current year with you who are interested in your College, its graduates, and its Alumni Association — if you have not personally participated in these activities you receive and read the ALUMNI NEWS, and are therefore well aware of our efforts.

In the Commencement issue of the NEWS for 1941, Father Rector requested each alumnus acquaint himself with the educational facilities of the six schools which make up the University organization, and to take special pains to interest some prospective student in matriculating at the College. In this issue Father Rector makes a second and more urgent request that each and every alumnus interest himself in this activity, the most important alumni activity which we can engage in at the present time. It is very definite that the enrollment in each department of the College will be substantially depleted in September, and if we act promptly and effectively, we can help Father Rector and our College during the predictable future. I sincerely urge, therefore, that the officers of the local chapters act on this request at their club meetings, that each alumnus take up the problem with his personal, social, business and professional friends, that all act — now.

You will read elsewhere in this issue of the formation of the War Service Advisory Bureau for College Alumni, to which your executive board is giving its enthusiastic support. We have contributed a substantial sum toward the maintenance of the organization, and as your representative, I have attended all of the meetings of the executive committee, and am familiar with the advantages to be derived from the services of the Bureau. We express our thanks to Father Rector for loaning to the Bureau on a part time basis, the services of George Donaldson, '29, Personnel Director at the College, who has been of very valuable assistance to the Bureau and its executive committee. I wish to thank also William Marnell, '27, for offering his services and those of three fellow schoolteachers as volunteer workers at the headquarters of the Bureau.

The number of contributors and the total sum contributed to the Loyalty Fund dropped off this year, for obvious reasons. We have no criticism to make, and know that everyone is doing his best, consistent with his other obligations. We urge, however, that you continue with your support during the coming year so that the activities of your Association will not have to be curtailed during the present crisis.

has gained both for his effectiveness in national defense and for his future career. In all probability the Government by the end of the war will have worked out some sort of an educational plan for the men leaving the armed service. But even without this, a veteran at the end of the war who has completed the major part of his degree requirements will be in a very advantageous position. At the time the difference between one or two years and four or five years will loom very large. Even in the opposition that the young man returning to civil life does not wish to complete the work for his B.A. degree, there are many avenues open to one who has completed at least half the work, such as the admission to law schools, civil service fields, and others.

The members of the Alumni, then, are asked to interest themselves actively in directing properly qualified students to the College. I sincerely hope that each one will see to it that he holds a personal interview with some prospective student. All are conversant with the facilities which the College offers in the arts, in science, in business education, in law and social work. And I should like to stress in a particular way the opportunity which the Intown College presents both to men and women for part-time work towards a degree. Here is your opportunity to be of real service. Please do not merely read this and approve of it in general. This is the time when students lay their plans for the coming year. Reach for your telephone before you read the rest of the News.

WILLIAM H. MARNELL

✂ This is the ideological Odyssey of Jack, who graduated from St. Vitus College in 1923.

Jack was always glad he had the philosophy. It left his feet on the ground. He had principles, and they are what you need in life. To be sure, Jack would be hard put to expound any specific tenet of the philosophy. He had never read St. Thomas Aquinas or St. Augustine, never read about St. Anselm or Duns Scotus, never heard of John the Scot. He had the philosophy out of a manual, and the man who wrote the manual had the peculiar powers of the ruminant.

The truth is that Jack did have principles. Perhaps the philosophy strengthened them, but he had them at his mother's knee, in the parochial grammar school, as an altar boy, in the practise of his religious duties. To make assurance doubly sure, they were driven home in a long series of annual retreats and missions, all cut to the same general pattern. Jack was entitled to a certain sense of righteousness. He would always be a faithful husband, a good father, an honest man.

Life was a pattern in black and white to Jack. Things were right or wrong. Being an honest man, he would never abandon the one nor condone the other. From the day he entered college, almost a year after the Armistice, through his college years, and through the twenty years that followed, he believed with that intensity of belief which only the entirely honest can achieve that the summation of evil in our generation is contained in the word Communism.

Nothing happened in the twenties to trouble him in that conviction. He believed it and his fellow Americans believed it. Mussolini was a good sort. He stamped out Communism in Italy and made the trains run on time. The prisoner of the Vatican was freed, too.

Jack weathered the depression all right, too. He took his cuts at the office but the boss didn't have to lay off anyone. He came to see the silliness of the twenties more clearly, but it was no tremendous shock to him. In fairness to Jack, he had never been attuned to the Jazz Era. He had never accepted it and its passing was good riddance. With a wisdom deeper than he knew, he sensed a healthy chastening in the downfall of the Coral Gables era.

But something else was happening. Adolph Hitler came to power the same time that Franklin D. Roosevelt did. He voted for Roosevelt and got a laugh out of Hitler. He looked too much like Charlie Chaplin to be taken seriously. Later he turned out to be a venomous foe of Communism. Perhaps there was more to the fellow than showed on the surface. He used strongarm methods, but the Germans like regimentation.

The first really dark cloud on Jack's international horizon was the invasion of Ethiopia. That wasn't Mussolini's style. Jack didn't want trouble but he hoped England and France would stop it. The Hoare-Laval agreement shocked him profoundly. European power politics hadn't changed. Thank God he was an American. We have our faults, but we don't sell helpless countries down the river.

Then came the persecution of the Jews in Germany. That was wrong; Hitler was going too far now. To be sure it was Communism. Hitler was really attacking, Jack used to say, but that didn't justify cold brutality. Again he thanked God he was an American.

To Jack the Spanish Civil War was a perfect pattern in black and white. The forces of right had risen and they were smiting the powers of darkness. When Franco won and the Communists were thoroughly beaten, he was moved to the very depths of his soul. Virtue has its victories.

Then things came thick and fast. The Hitler-Stalin pact was a jolt in the fullest sense, there was nothing surprising in it where the Communist was concerned, because such dialectical double-crossing he considered inherent in Communism, but Hitler had him puzzled now. He fell back mentally on sure things, American things.

Austria, Czecho-Slovakia, then Poland and Europe again gone mad. His own mind was in turmoil now. Communism was the enemy, but Hitler and Mussolini had made a pact with Communism. He found himself beginning to hate Hitler, to hate Fascism almost the way he hated Communism. He found himself cheering inwardly for England even though he would not say it openly.

But one thing was certain. America stood solid in the right. His picture of Europe had become blurred and distorted. But America was right. He found himself loving the solid earth of America, the names of American cities and rivers, the names Washington, Lincoln, Jefferson. There was something hysterical in this. He saw the darkness coming on, as one by one the lights of civilization went out. He was an isolationist. He gloried in the word. He wanted to isolate America from treachery, hatred, and blood. He wanted it to be clean and pure and beautiful. America first, last, and always. So he joined America First.

Aid to Britain, destroyer-bases deal, lend lease, opening of the Red Sea route, Iceland repeal of the neutrality act, aid to Russia, step-downward towards destiny waiting with blood-stained hands. A dry cynicism filled him and he became a scoffer. Arms for England, Egypt, Russia, China. His youngster was seventeen years old. Would there be arms for him? Jack never opposed national defense. That was a lie his enemies invented. He believed in America, would die for America. But his enemies said . . .

That was the day before Pearl Harbor. Thank God it was the Japs. On December seventh Jack prayed, and on December eighth a lightness filled him. He was one again with his fellow countrymen. This was his war as well as theirs. Nobody jockeyed us into Pearl Harbor.

Some of his "enemies" will not let him forget. Why are they his enemies? They claim to love America; he knows that he does. He feels free to criticize the war effort where he thinks it faulty; that is an American's immemorial privilege. Why do they suspect him, suggest by innuendo that he is on the wrong side?

Jack forgets that he was a cynic and a scoffer. Man always forgets the garment he has cast aside. Other men remember.

Jack is a man of good will and much that is said against him is unfair. But it is not all unfair. Jack has had one fundamental weakness in his thought and it goes back many years.

He has moulded his life by principles and in the basic things of life his principles are sound. They will endure when the ideologies of modernists have dried to the dust that only doctors of philosophy stir. But he has trusted too much to principles and underestimated the role of factual knowledge.

Take the matter of Communism. Communism to him has been a fixed principle of evil. Therefore Fascism, its implacable foe, was a fixed principle of good. But that didn't work out. Fascism and Communism made common cause when it suited their mutual convenience. It was when he finally came to see that the Nazis and the Fascists were men of diabolical ingenuity, fighting with ideas as well as swords, not for the victory of an idea but for the conquest of the world's material wealth, that he became an America Firster. He had been taken in by an international, ideological can game. The country bumpkin, taken in by the city slicker, becomes an isolationist. He isolates himself back on the farm. Jack isolated himself back in America.

Even today Jack is loath to see that if the Axis really aims at world dominion, then lend-lease, Iceland, aid to Russia and the rest become part of the national defense picture. Nazi Germany built a cushion of conquered smaller groups about her before the real war, the war with England, Russia, and America, started. America, by the steps it took in 1940 and 1941,

BOSTON COLLEGE INTOWN

 The College of Arts and Sciences Intown, in accordance with governmental requests, has accelerated its program to meet the needs of the war emergency and to send better equipped men more rapidly into the field of national defense.

The scholastic year has been extended to include a third term, from May 4 to July 31. Under this arrangement the school year will run from September to July for the duration. The Pre-Legal training, which formerly took three years, now is completed in two years consisting of three semesters a year. The Bachelor's course, which previously was a six to eight years course, can be covered now in four years with a total, as before of twelve semesters. An adjustment of the curriculum has been made to allow the introduction of more war courses, especially mathematics and sciences, though other fields, such as History and the Social Sciences, also offer courses with a war emphasis. A course on "the Politics of the Pacific" was offered during the second semester by Professor Thomas D. Mahoney and a course on "The Sociology of War" will be given during the Summer term, May 4-July 31, by Mr. John Donovan.

 The third Annual Communion Breakfast for the students of Boston College Intown was held at St. Mary's Chapel at 10.00 a.m., on Sunday, April 12th. The Mass was celebrated by Reverend Vincent deP. O'Brien, S.J., Dean.

At the Breakfast in the Tower Auditorium, the main speakers were the Very Reverend William J. Murphy, S.J., President of Boston College and Jeremiah W. Mahaney, President of the Alumni Association. The guest speaker for the occasion was Chaplain John L. Clancy, S.J., U. S. A. The Master of Ceremonies, Charles H. Nicholson, introduced the speakers.

A word of thanks and appreciation goes to the splendid Moderator of the activities at Boston College Intown, Reverend Joseph R. Walsh, S.J., Assistant Dean.

also built its cushion. The difference is that Germany was the aggressor and used the sword, America was the defender and used peaceful means. We were, and are, right; they were, and are, wrong.

Today one duty rests on Jack and his opponents. It is for each to accept the other as honest, sincere, and American. It is to regard everything before Pearl Harbor as history. It is to unite, with open mind and open heart, in a spirit of trust and mutual understanding. It is to win victory for America and through that victory, freedom for mankind.

Student Notes

by ED WEISS, '42

✍ Ordinarily the conclusion of another school year at Boston College is an event of no small significance. However, every member of the class of 1942 will agree that this year was the most significant in his whole college career. They witnessed their careers, their very lives reshaped overnight by the advent of war. All thoughts of self vanished and a single idea pervaded the mind of every student—how he could best serve his country in this emergency. The college authorities co-operated by revising the curriculum to include more practical courses, such as navigation, Radio and Morse Code, but at the same time the value of fundamental subjects and cultural courses was emphasized. None of the traditional methods of education was sacrificed but rather did the school program become more balanced and fully equipped to prepare students for the armed services.

Extra-curricular activities during the second semester were naturally minimized. The student newspaper, "The Heights," continued publication each week, as did the Stylus each month but the lack of news limited its scope noticeably. The Dramatic Society presented "Uncle Tom's Cabin" the first week in February and played to capacity audiences for three nights and two matinees. Richard Keating '42, was outstanding as little Eva. An event more in accordance with the times was the Day of Reflection held at the college the first of February. The Rev. Francis V. Sullivan, S.J., addressed a large gathering of students at this unusual ceremony. Joseph Elliott, '42, Sodality Prefect was in charge of the arrangements.

Pre-Lenten social dances were held by the Sophomores on January 23 and the Seniors February 13 when the annual Cross and Crown Ball was held Under the Towers. The Juniors began preparations for their annual Prom in February by naming the committee. The Fulton debaters contested with Holy Cross and Providence on February 27.

The Navy and the Marines offered early in March two new opportunities for qualified undergraduates to obtain commissions in the respective services. Approximately one hundred students have already signed up for either of these training courses and the seniors will leave immediately after school while the undergraduates will be allowed to finish their education according to present plans. The physical requirements for both courses are very rigid and the V-7 class requires college mathematics.

In line with the rapid pace of the second semester the Sub Turri staff labored unceasingly to meet its early deadline in March. Faced with a reduced budget, the editors have, as the final product attests, retained the high standard of previous yearbooks and presented the class of 1942 with a fitting memento of their undergraduate days at Boston College. The Glee Club and the Emmanuel College Choral Society presented a very enjoyable concert at the Library Auditorium March 15. Conductor Theodore N. Marier scored again with a unique and interesting program. This performance marked the final appearance of Brian Sullivan '42, who left the following Monday for service in the Coast Artillery as a Second Lieutenant. The Sub Turri conducted their annual poll of "mosts and bests" among the seniors in March. Paul Maguire of Dorchester and Martin Hansberry of Waltham were named most popular and most likely to succeed respectively.

Despite the pressure of math, navigation, and other "defense courses," most of the student found time to visit the annual Stylus Bookfair held in the Library from March 23-30. The exhibition was arranged by Robert Muse, '42 in collaboration with the editors of the Stylus. The Heights elected the staff for the school year 1942-43 and Ernest Santosuosso of Dorchester was elected Editor-in-Chief. The Stylus also elected new officers and Thomas J. Heath of Somerville succeeded Joseph Dever as Editor. As a prelude to examinations which began this year April 13, the seniors enjoyed the music of Rolly Rogers at their annual Philomatheia Ball at the Copley-Plaza, April 6.

As the date for Commencement 1942 draws near, the Seniors can look back on a memorable year, one that saw many changes made and witnessed the graduation of the first class since the World War on a wartime basis. The event of Commencement week, the Communion Breakfast, Class Day, the Graduation Ball, will remain ever in their memories as they prepare to take their place in the world as soldiers of their country or soldiers of Christ, as doctors, lawyers, or defense workers. And it is with the realization that the ideals of Boston College will ever stand by them that the members of the class of 1942 take leave of their Alma Mater.

Commencement

ANNIVERSARY CLASSES

1917 — 1922 — 1927 — 1932 — 1937

🌸 Commencement Week occurs one month earlier than usual because of the war. The week will begin on Sunday, May 10, with the Communion Breakfast for the seniors, and end with the Commencement exercises on Wednesday, May 15.

Commencement Week this year takes on added importance because the first "war class" will be graduated. Furthermore, it will in all probability be the last until the war is over. Next year, degrees will be granted in February, and in the middle of the summer, without any formal exercises. The College intends to grant several degrees to seniors who joined the service before the year had terminated.

The School of Business Administration graduates its first class consisting of approximately 59 members.

The Cardinal will preside at the Commencement exercises, where the principal speaker will be Mr. John Moody of New York, author of "The Long Road Home."

The program for the week is as follows:

Sunday, May 10

Morning. Mass and Communion Breakfast, College.

Afternoon. Baccalaureate Services, Immaculate Conception Church.

Monday, May 11

Alumni Day

Tuesday, May 12

Class Day exercises.

Wednesday, May 13

Commencement

ALUMNI DAY

☪ Because it is desirable to preserve the unity of Commencement Week, Alumni Day will be observed Monday, May 11, much earlier than usual. Please remember the change in date. Open house will prevail all day. The program will open with the traditional parade of classes to Alumni Field at 3:30. The Class of 1917, celebrating its Silver Anniversary, heads the parade, followed by 1922, 1927, 1932 and 1937. The Boston College-Holy Cross game will start at 4 o'clock.

In the evening the annual alumni banquet will be served at 6 o'clock. The committee, with William M. Cashin, '18, Treasurer of the Alumni Association, as chairman, has completed all arrangements, insuring an enjoyable menu.

The annual business meeting is to begin at 8 o'clock in the Library Auditorium. Mr. William J. Doyle, '25, Chairman of the Committee on Nominations and Elections, will announce the results of the election. Representatives of the 5, 10, 15, 20 and 25 year classes will speak briefly. Father Rector will address the Alumni. Jeremiah W. Mahoney, '21, President of the Alumni Association, will preside.

Bill Marnell, '27, has promised that the annual "dramatic" presentation by his troupers will equal the excellent standards of previous years. Some of the actors to appear are: Gerry Coughlin, '23, Tom O'Keefe, '27, Tom Hefferman, '27, Dan Driscoll, '28, Harry Leen, '31, Jim Hickey, '26, and Barney MacDonald, '14.

WAR SERVICE ADVISORY BUREAU FOR COLLEGE ALUMNI LIVING IN NEW ENGLAND

At a recent meeting of a cross section of college alumni groups in New England, the War Service Advisory Bureau was established.

The object of the Bureau is to furnish information to all alumni regarding opportunities for service in the armed forces of the United States and to receive applications for such service. This work is undertaken with the approval and co-operation of the commanding officers of the First Corps Area and the First Naval District.

Headquarters of this committee is at the Harvard Club of Boston, 374 Commonwealth Avenue, Boston (Tel. Kenmore 1260). Mr. John Shillita, an experienced personnel man and well informed on the requirements of the Army, Navy and Defense Work, is the Executive Secretary. He will be glad to see any of our alumni seeking information or advice. If you require assistance, I hope you will avail yourself of this service.

Sincerely yours,

JEREMIAH W. MAHONEY,

The Army offers some commissions through its organized reserve. This is briefly what they want: Men who are top notchers, whose entry into the service means not a promotion but a sacrifice. These applicants must have exceptionally broad experience on a high plane, or exceptional specialized education and experience, and are preferably over 45 years of age.

Engineers are in great demand by both Army and Navy. The Army wants them for many branches and for many purposes including the building of the Alaska Highway. One thing they try to insist upon is five or ten years experience. In addition, the Army wants:

Purchasing agents with well rounded experience in complete lines; Linguists with fluency in five or six languages, and, if possible, under 30 years of age for counter espionage work; Communications men including radio hams, electronics specialists, and electrical engineers, radar maintenance;

Road construction experts — if versed in all phases and having had full charge of extensive road building;

Managers of truck fleets — with 200 or 300 trucks under their orders;

Dentists, physicians, chaplains, veterinarians;

Lawyers — only if top flight and at very head of profession;

Accountants — exceptional ones only;

Salesmen — not needed until after the war.

The Army Air Corps has also been seeking older men who are experienced to release officers now engaged in routine work and instruction, such as,

Administrators for air ports, etc. — men with airport, or other administrative work on a high level;

Instructors — pilots of last war, or other pilots not eligible for combat duty;

Pilots for ferry command;

Teachers of vocational subjects for mechanics and ground schools;

Meteorologists — in this regard it was suggested that with even Wellesley opening its doors for such training it would be patriotic for some older men to study for this branch.

This is in addition to the aviation cadets and warrant officer ratings which rank just below commissioned officers.

Aviation Cadets are trained to be (1) Air crew men — pilots, navigators and bombardiers, (2) Groundcrew men — armament, meteorology photography, communications and engineer officers.

The Naval Reserve offers commissions and warrants to civilians who meet its requirements. Most numerous are those granted to men under 27 or 28 as aviation cadets (V-5) or reserve midshipmen (V-7).

In addition to men of "broad experience in an independent and responsible capacity," various commissions are open.

AVS under Bureau of Aeronautics has many different openings for men with technical de-

VARSITY CLUB

On Monday evening, May 4, the Varsity Club will present a Sports Night at the University Club starting at 8 o'clock. It will be well worth attending. One of the features will be the showing of the new film issued by the American League, "The Ninth Inning." All the coaches of the different sports at the college have promised to attend. In all probability Joe Cronin and Jimmy Foxx will entertain the group with a few stories. Tom Scanlan, '20, President of the club, has appointed Vin Carolin as Chairman of the evening. This event is open to Varsity Club members only.

GENE MACK, JR., 1942

☛ Providing that the war does not curtail sports further than it has, Boston College men can entertain hopes of having a capable football team operating from University Heights in the fall.

Several good players from the 1941 eleven will be lost either by graduation or to the armed forces, but there is enough talent still on the premises to guarantee that Denny Myers' second Eagle team will be a good one.

To replace Teddy Williams, the swift fullback who beat Holy Cross last season on a naked reverse, Myers has Harry "Mickey" Connolly and Wally Boudreau, both transferred from quarterback, and Willie De Rosa, Everett's latest gift to B. C. Frank "Monk" Maznicki, the West Warwick wonder boy who was everybody's favorite last season, will be replaced by Robert "Red" Mangene, who starred at Malden High and Marianapolis.

Co-Captains Mike Holovak and Fred Nаметz are fixtures at right halfback and center respectively, and several other Eagles are almost equally certain of first-string jobs. They include Gil Bouley and Angelo Sisti, tackles; Rocco Canale and Patsy Darone, guards; Angie Nicketakis and Charlie Furbush, ends, and Eddie Doherty, the quarterback.

Promising candidates up from the 1941 frosh eleven, besides DeRosa and Mangeme, are Eddie Burns, John Killilea and Tom Brennan, backs, and Vic Palladino, Eddie Fiorentino, Frank Landry, Joe Kulis, Mario Giannelli and Ed Nixon, linemen.

Coach Freddie Maguire has visions of developing the best B. C. baseball team since he took over the coaching reins in 1939. For a change, Fred has some excellent pitching. Three regular hurlers from last year's team are back and besides these, Maguire boasts of two star sophomore pitchers and a couple of freshman chuckers who will be allowed to play on the Varsity this Spring.

The sophs are Ed Leary, a big right hander from Norwood, and Frank Callahan, a promising southpaw from Newton. Another soph, Tom "Lefty" Hazlitt, was counted on as a starting pitcher but has come up with torn ligaments in his throwing arm and may be lost for the season. The yearling prospects are Norman "Salty" Martin of Lynn and Bob Lynch of Somerville, both all-Scholastics last year.

Returning lettermen are George "Lefty" Bent, Dick Ferriter and Ronnie Corbett, pitchers; Eddie McDonald and Larry Ferriter, catchers; Walter Casell and Eddie Kenney, infielders, and Bill Commene and Bob Jauron, outfielders.

The toughest positions to fill will be first base, left open by the graduation of Eddie Sawyer, last year's captain, and left field, the post held last season by Frank Davis. Davis was chosen captain of the 1942 team but accepted a government job and didn't return to school.

Leading the infield candidates, as the Eagles prepared for their opening game with Fordham on April 20, was John "Putto" Murphy, Belmont sophomore, and Walter Cassell at third base; Bob Muse, veteran from Newton, and sophomore Tom Maloney at shortstop; and Kenney, Tom Lane, Tom Dawson and Jerome Daunt at second base.

Mickey Connolly, the talented junior from Norwalk, Conn., injured his knee during a Spring football scrimmage but is expected to fit into Maguire's picture when the injury is completely healed. Mickey is a classy fielder and probably the best hitter on the Heights.

Jack Ryder's outdoor track team will be numerically small but well-rounded. The track team lost its captain when Johnny Ballantine recently joined the Army. Gil Walker, sprinter from Everett, left school because of sickness.

Prominent members of Ryder's square are Bill Riley, Eddie McCarthy, John O'Connor, Jim Kelleher, Tom Greehan, Frank Harris, Angelo Sisti, Joe Repko, Adolph Kissell, Al Morro and Bob Ross. Morro in the discus throw and Sisti in the shot put are the Eagles' best bets in the coming meets.

Enthusiasm was high during the winter when B. C.'s underrated hockey team not only copped the New England Collegiate League championship but also won the National A. A. U. title by winning three games in two days at the Arena. Wally Boudreau, who led the scorers on John "Snooks" Kelley's six, was elected captain of next season's team. Coach Kelley looks forward to having a great team next winter with such stars as Boudreau, Jimmy Edgeworth, John Murphy, George Malone, Eddie Burns, Tom Dolan, Jake Cunneiff, Phil Carey and Harry Crovo returning.

Communion Breakfasts

Hundreds of Boston College men in groups from Boston to Seattle gathered for Communion breakfasts after attending Mass and receiving Holy Communion on Laetare Sunday, March 15.

Three years ago the Alumni Association inaugurated the custom of setting aside one Sunday in the year to be called Universal Boston College Communion Sunday. Perhaps the most important of all was the observance of that day this year. For the Alumni offered Holy Communion for its members now in the armed forces of the country.

Despite the inclemency of the weather in New England most of the local clubs participated in a public demonstration of faith that was gratifying.

At the College the Brighton, Brookline and Newton Clubs gathered. This program was broadcast from 11.15 to 11.45 a. m. over stations WBZ-WBZA. Introduced by Mr. Jeremiah W. Mahoney, '21, Alumni President, Father Rector and Mr. William D. Nugent, '99, delivered addresses to all of the clubs in New England. In part Father Rector said: "The familiar things around us are slipping away like the props on a magician's platform. The world of our desires and hopes has already been in a large measure blacked out. We seek an anchor not loosening in the flux of the moment; our eyes search out some light that will not fail in the darkness. Happy those who find it."

He declared that our soldiers need spiritual raining to be able to face death. "When one believes with all his soul that the end of life is the beginning of an unending life, that death is the passage from the obscurity of temporal things to the clarity of light inaccessible, he will face danger with high resoluteness."

Mr. Nugent made the following statements: "The hard realities we are all facing demand and must have the most complete union and self-effacing co-operation of all Americans in the grim business that threatens all of America's highest ideals of the past.

"Spiritual solidarity is America's crying need. Pulpits and platforms throughout the entire country earnestly call for a rebirth of spiritual values in the lives of Americans, as the only basis for a truly united America. Only such a union will enable us to array our complete national strength against the most evil and powerful forces the world has even known."

At the Arlington Club the Rev. James E. Coleran, S.J., spoke; at Belmont, Professor Harry Doyle; at Lawrence, Rev. John J. Long, S.J.; at West Roxbury, Rev. Francis X. Weiser, S.J.; at South Boston, Rev. James Geary, S.J.; at Somerville, E. Mark Sullivan, '00; at Cambridge, Professor Thomas Mahoney, '36; at Framingham, Rev. Stephen Shea, S.J.; at Darchester, Rev. William Casey, S.J.; at Lynn, Rev. Martin P. Harney, S.J.; at Malden, Monsignor Charles A. Finn; at Milton, Rev. Francis V. Sullivan, S.J.; at Salem, John B. Atkinson, '16; at Providence, Rev. David Dungan, S.J.; at Woburn, Rev. George King, S.J.; at Reading, Rev. Myles J. McSurney.

At Seattle, a small group accepting the hospitality of Bishop Shaughnessey, '09, met. Those present were Brenton Gordon, '36, Mark Troy, '33, Nicholas Maffeo, '30, Joseph Orlosky, '34, John Good, Rev. James McGoldrick, S.J., and Rev. James Dolan, S.J., a chaplain in the Army.

Several of the Alumni appeared in uniform. At the College, Lt. Brian Sullivan, '42, sang a few numbers, accompanied by his brother, Kevin, also in the Army. When plans were being completed it was revealed that every officer of the Malden-Medford-Melrose Club was in the service. In Lynn several of the members of the club came directly from defense positions to attend Mass.

R. Goynor Wellings, '23, was General Chairman of the day.

MILTON CLUB

The Milton Club has elected the following officer for the coming year: Joseph E. Ingoldsby, '27, Senior Vice-President, Charles Sexton, '18; Junior Vice-President, Frank O'Callaghan, '40; Secretary, William F. Mack, '10; Treasurer, J. Murray Regan, '26; Honorary Chaplain, Rev. George A. Gately, '01; Chaplain, Rev. Joseph G. Sullivan, '29.

Discipline — Virtue — Courage

The demands of the present as well as of the future must shape the objectives of sound education for democracy. Solid contributions to the united efforts of a nation at War and rational preparation for the "good life" after the War, must be made. Curricula and courses must be concerned with the Victory and the Peace after the Victory.

Consequently in education more emphasis has been placed on the study of Mathematics and the Natural Sciences; opportunities for specialization in subjects directly serving the Nation at War have been widened. At the same time, students must be made aware of their social responsibilities, they must be well grounded in truth and morality, they must have disciplined minds and the virtue and courage to face the World at War and the World after the War. America must not lose either the War or the Peace. America must be preserved.

This folder has been prepared so that prospective students may have at hand a convenient source of information about Boston College. It is condensed in form, and gives only essential facts.

COMMITTEE ON ADMISSIONS

Academic Year

Our government has requested that institutions of higher learning introduce accelerated programs to enable students to complete requirements for graduation before reaching the age for military service. In response to this request Boston College has introduced an accelerated program of study. It will be possible, in the future, for students to complete all degree requirements in a period of three years.

Students, who wish to take advantage of further acceleration, may complete the work required in two and two-thirds years. For this group a Summer Session of eight weeks duration will begin on July 1, 1942. The first semester of the accelerated program for all Freshmen will begin on September 8, 1942.

While vacation periods will be shortened, and holidays granted more infrequently, courses of study and content of curriculum will in no way be lessened.

Programs of study will be accelerated with no deviation from qualitative or quantitative standards. Acceleration will not be permitted to become mere haste. For not by haste can there be sound training and education of the youth of America for intelligent and thorough participation in America's destiny.

Religious Training

While Boston College is a Catholic college, in the admission of students no discrimination is made on the grounds of religious belief. Religious instruction is given in class periods which form an integral element of the curriculum. The formal instruction is supported by various spiritual extra-curricular activities and practices. A Student Counsellor is available at all times to the student. Finally, there is an all pervading background against which all the individual elements, which must be the staple of sound education for the immediate future as well as for the post-war world, are projected. Religion plays no small part in the formation of loyal citizens and will always be a factor in the lives of individuals as well as of our nation.

Courses and Curriculum

General—It is axiomatic of Jesuit Education that genuine education demands the supervision and control of trained and experienced teachers and is not a thing to be regulated by the inexperienced students. Today, more than ever before, in the midst of bewilderment and vagueness, rigidly supervised courses of instruction with clear objectives, sound philosophy and training, adequate for the needs of today as well as for tomorrow, are imperative. The attitudes and aptitudes of the student must be carefully explored, his mind conditioned to the demands of narrow specialization. Therefore, a harmonious sequence of courses must be arranged, with courses in Language, History, Mathematics, the Natural Sciences and Philosophy forming the core of a prescribed curriculum.

Together with these courses more specialized fields are integrated and intensive training in the Languages and Literature or Mathematics and the Natural Sciences or in the Social Sciences is not only possible, but is desirable.

The College at the present time confers two academic degrees, Bachelor of Arts (A.B.), and Bachelor of Science (B.S.). Individual courses of study are consequently arranged in two groups, each one leading to one of these two degrees. Within the Bachelor of Science group, there are again seven groups, since all students registering for this degree are expected to concentrate in either Biology or Chemistry or Physics, or Electrical Engineering or History or Education or Social Science or Business Administration.

Selection of Course—Students applying for admission will be expected to signify which of the two general groups (A.B. or B.S.) it is their intention to follow. Students who wish Pre-Medical or Pre-Dental training should register for the degree of A.B. or B.S., Biology Concentration. Pre-Law training is given in the A.B. or B.S., Social Science curriculum. They will be aided in their choice by the Dean of Freshmen and an Advisor for Freshman Studies.

Field of Concentration—In addition to prescribed courses in Language, Mathematics, Science, Philosophy, all students must choose a Field of Concentration. In this choice the provocative factor should be the student's prospective place in the emergency and in the remote future.

Student Organizations

In the past Boston College has offered a varied program of extra-curricular activities. Religious, Academic, Dramatic, Forensic, Athletic. These organizations, suited to the choice and interest of the individual, supplemented the work of the class-room and gave ample opportunity for self-expression, initiative and poise.

It has not been deemed advisable to curtail these activities but rather to focus all their manifestations more sharply on the conflict, in which we, as a nation, are engaged. Language and Science Academies will be used by the student to acquire new skill which will make a direct contribution to our war effort.

Religious activities will in no way be minimized, for in the formation of the whole man, in the development of a fruitful and purposive life, religion has no substitute.

Dramatic and forensic activities will be used to channel to local communities and clubs correct notions of democracy, freedom, the historic role that America is playing in the present day, post war aims and adjustment. In other words these activities will serve as builders of morale among the student body as well as the local civilian population.

Competitive sports will serve to sharpen the competitive instincts of the student and newer lessons of loyalty, cooperation and team-play will be their goal.

Special War Effort

During the war opportunities will be provided for the student to become equipped, in some measure, with special knowledge and skills, that will be useful when he is called into the armed forces, industry, or other civilian activity. The College also offers courses which enable the student to meet college requirements of different branches of the military service in a minimum of time. This is especially true of courses in mathematics and other subjects for men who enlist in the Naval Reserve, Class V-1, V-5, V-7 Programs. Pre-induction indoctrination courses have been established with the aid of the First Naval District for these Naval Reserve Classes. Programs have also been established for candidates for the Marine Corps Reserve, the Flying Cadet Training Program of the Air Corps. The Civil Pilot Training Program, first inaugurated at Boston College in the Fall of 1939, will be encouraged among the students.

Special courses with or without credit will be offered for the duration of the emergency. Courses in Radio and Radio Communications, Meteorology, Navigation, Morse Code, Ballistics, First Aid, Civilian Defense, have become part of the War Time Program of Boston College.

Physical Education—Serious concern about the physical fitness of American youth has led the War and Navy Departments to request that a program of Physical Education for all students be adopted by collegiate institutions.

Boston College will inaugurate a physical program for all students in co-operation with this request.

Admission

Entrance requirements are administered by the Committee on Admissions, which has been empowered to permit such modifications governing admission requirements as may be judged necessary and are consistent with the maintenance of high educational standards. Students who have minor entrance deficiencies but who show promise of success will be considered for admission.

Applications for admission to Boston College must be filed with the Registrar no later than May 1, 1942 to receive consideration for Entrance and Scholarship Examinations, which will be held on Saturday, May 9, 1942. Supplementary Entrance Examinations will be held on August 25, 1942. Application for these examinations must be filed no later than August 15, 1942.

Registrants for the degree of Bachelor of Arts must present written evidence that fifteen (15) units of work have been completed in an approved secondary school. These units must be distributed over the following subjects: Latin, Algebra, Plane Geometry, English, Modern Language, other subjects.

Registrants for the degree of Bachelor of Science in Biology, Chemistry, Physics, Electrical Engineering, must present written evidence that fifteen (15) units of work have been completed in an approved secondary school. These units must be distributed over the following subjects: English, Algebra, Plane Geometry, Modern Language, Science, other subjects.

Registrants for the degree of Bachelor of Science in Education, Business Administration, History, Social Science must present written evidence that fifteen (15) units of work have been completed in an approved secondary school. These units must be distributed over the following subjects: English, Algebra, Plane Geometry, United States History, Modern Language, other subjects.

All applicants for admission to Boston College, in addition to satisfying the general unit requirements must receive passing grades in the Boston College Entrance Examinations, which will embrace a series of objective tests designed to measure aptitude and achievement.

Scholarship Examinations

Each year Boston College awards a number of full and partial scholarships.

These awards are made on the results of competitive examinations. For the 1942 Freshman Class there will be fourteen full and partial scholarships open to competition.

In order to qualify for the Scholarship Examinations certification in at least five secondary school courses is necessary.

Scholarship Examinations will be held on Saturday, May 9, 1942.

Guidance and Placement

Boston College offers special assistance to students in choosing courses that will best qualify them for their place in the emergency and after the war. The Office of Guidance and Placement helps them in obtaining information concerning vital services that may be rendered in the armed forces and in industry as well as educational and professional opportunities.

To insure the proper choice of courses and career each Freshman is assigned to a Freshman Advisor, whom he must meet at least four times in the course of his Freshman Year at the College.

Assistance is also offered in solving the problem of employment during the collegiate career of the student.

Fellowships

Each year Fellowships are offered to gifted students for advance study and research work in pursuit of courses leading to the degrees of M. A. and M. S. in the Boston College Graduate School of Arts and Sciences.

Father Francis Sullivan has also entered the Navy as Chaplain. He will be stationed in Virginia.

Father Sheridan, former Dean of Sophomore is now in Charleston, S. C., Chaplain in the Army. One of the first to greet him was Eugene Cronin, '17.

893

The class sincerely regrets the death of one of its best loved members, Dr. Charles F. Stack.

899

Judge John E. Swift was signally honored in March when he was made High Commander of the Knights of St. Gregory by the Pope.

905

Father Eberle reports that Jock Greene is building a big defense plant out West, and is in charge of 6000 men.

JOHN S. KEOHANE

2 Acacia Avenue, Chestnut Hill

The following celebrated the twenty-fourth anniversary of ordination on March 22nd: Rev. Thomas J. Ford, pastor at East Bridgewater; Rev. Thomas J. Heagney of Lowell; Rev. Edward J. McLaughlin of Brighton; Rev. Thomas F. Murphy of Wakefield.

Daniel J. Hurlb, Superintendent of Schools at Woburn is looking forward to the ordination of his son, Leander, which will take place at Weston College in June.

Jim Dunbar, principal of the James M. Chittick School of Hyde Park, was observed at the annual retreat of the Catholic Alumni Sodality of Boston in March.

Rev. Robert P. Barry, A.B., 1914, L.D., 1941, pastor of St. Clement's Church, South Medford, is to be congratulated on the beautiful new church dedicated on Easter Sunday. Has anyone seen Barney McDonald and his bride?

1915

PHILIP J. BOND

18 Houston Street, West Roxbury

Thomas F. Gavin has moved from Jamaica Plain to West Roxbury — 92 Church Street. Tom is head of the Excise Tax Division at Boston City Hall.

John F. Fitzgerald, Master in the Public Latin School, completed this month his first year as principal of the South Boston Evening Commercial High School.

George S. Hennessy, Junior Master in the Roxbury Memorial High School for Boys, also completed this month his first year as principal of the East Boston Evening Commercial High School.

Thomas F. Galvin, Master in the High School of Commerce, spent January and February at Miami Beach, Florida.

Father Maurice J. Flynn, senior curate at St. Thomas' Church, Jamaica Plain, has had outstanding success in his work with C.Y.O. athletics in his parish.

Father George S. Brennan is a curate at the Sacred Heart Church, Watertown. He is still the best looking member of the class.

Father Daniel J. Keefe is a curate at St. Angela's Church, Mattapan.

Seen along the Marathon route again this year: Robert J. Burns, Newton Realtor; Charles P. York, Master in the Brandeis Vocational High School; and Father Thomas L. Boland, curate at St. Bernard's Church, West Newton. Bob and Charlie haven't missed a Marathon in fifty years. All three appeared in shape, but as last year in no shape to compete in the race.

John J. Walsh had not the faintest inkling back in 1911-1915 that one day instead of turning out street lights one by one he would turn them all out together and plunge all Metropolitan Boston into darkness.

JAMES L. O'BRIEN

41 Pondred Circle, Jamaica Plain

Our Annual Retreat will be held May 1-3 at Campion Hall. Father Sullivan, our classmate at Campion, will soon take up his duties as Chaplain with the armed forces.

Our President, Frank Roche, will keep things humming this year. Frank's a great worker.

Jack Atkinson is really busy. His factory and his job as City Manager, give him few spare moments.

Joe McHugh's death came as quite a shock to us. Joe was a great teacher and will be greatly missed by his "boys."

Father Bill Daly is quite busy with the Parochial School Spelling Bees.

Joe McOwen is now located in New York. We expect to see him at our meetings.

Plan to be with us on Alumni Day.

JOHN J. MAHONEY

7 Avery Road, Wellesley, Mass.

The class dinner at the Myles Standish was attended by the "regulars" as usual. No formal program had been arranged because of the consideration to be given to the plans of the committee for the twenty-fifth anniversary program celebration. At the end of the evening all agreed that the program in its final form though less extensive than originally planned was more appropriate to the conditions we are facing.

The May festivities will be completely successful only if all the rarely-seen "Fellows" are with us. The energy and planning of John Flynn as chairman of the committee and the untiring efforts of Father Lavery as publisher and editor of The Senior should win the support — and by support is meant the active participation in all functions — of everyone within a radius of 520 miles. Which includes Richmond. Correction. 700 miles, so that Jim Slattery's itinerary from Cleveland will be included.

We are all pleased to learn that Tom Bray is recovering from his long illness. Pneumonia plus an encore is rugged opposition. We hope that the suggestion of Father Lavery has been followed with respect to writing to him and Nick Petracelli.

The sympathy of the class is extended to Nick Petracelli and Charley Two- me~~y~~ on the deaths of their fathers and to Father James Kerrigan on the death of his mother.

Father Robert Sheridan has been added to the class representation in the armed forces. Left Boston in March for Charleston. He has been chaplain at St. Margaret's Hospital, Dorchester. Major Vigeant who was last reported at Camp Edwards is now stationed at Fort Devens. Joe Nevins is standing by at Newport for Navy orders.

Captain John McCarthy, chairman of a Selective Service Board, is spending more and more time at meetings with employer organizations explaining the workings of the law. Has been receiving excellent press notices.

Lester Shea had a narrow escape from serious injury when his school for aircraft mechanics in Worcester was destroyed by fire in January.

WILLIAM M. CASHIN
179 Robbins Street, Milton

 The class regrets the death of Ed Heislein of Brighton.

Let us say a prayer for the safety of our classmate, the Rev. Vincent I. Kennally, S.J., in the Philippines.

Commanders Pike and Shea, U. S. N., according to latest reports are "on the high seas."

Rev. John McElaney, S.J., has been appointed rector of Fairfield College of St. Robert Bellarmine, the new Jesuit school at Fairfield, Conn. Father McElaney had been serving as rector at Shadowbrook.

Received a letter recently from Ray Cahill who is with the F. H. A. in Washington. He expects to be with us on Alumni Day.

And that reminds us. How about a grand gathering on that day? A sort of rehearsal for next year. We shall have the same room on the second floor. John Canavan will meet the boys every hour on the hour, from 1 to 7 p. m.

Two weeks ago we were delighted and astounded when we tuned in on the radio and heard the voice of Warren Clear broadcasting to the nation on the "Army Hour." Warren, who is now a lieutenant-colonel, had just returned from Corregidor in the Philippines. He related the horrors he personally witnessed in the fight against the Japs. We are happy that he is well. Several months ago his wife wrote to the Alumni office stating that he was out of the country on official business. Since then he had not been heard from. He came to the U. S. by way of Australia.

In this last issue of the year a word of thanks is due to Jahn O'Loughlin for his breezy diary that has appeared in this column.

"Tony" Maguire recently dropped in at the Heights. For some years now he has been with the Matthew F. Sheehan Co. of Boston.

JOTTINGS FROM THE DIARY

Jack Shea, now stripped for action in the battle of the Atlantic, had a weakness for horticulture. His poem "Two Flowers" breathed exquisite poetic elegance. Today the class preference is perhaps for Rases — but not two!

Harold Anderson was elected President of the Somerville B. C. Club.

Ed Sullivan and Tom Sheeran were elected President and Secretary of the class to fill vacancies caused by the withdrawal of Vin Murray and Tony Maguire for duty in the service.

The "Sub Turri" staff went to work under the editorship of Dan Harkins. The lecture team of the Fulton was in extensive demand among K. of C. Councils and other organizations. Problems of civilization were ably discussed by men of '18.

Benny Murray, President of the Student A. A., and Charlie Fitzgerald, captain of the football team, addressed a large mass meeting of students. Charlie was hopping around with a broken ankle and Benny pepped up the multitude with his inimitable "Come on feww-ows."

Under the energetic leadership of Frank (Skinny) Gately the Glee Club was enjoying a busy and successful season. It is a matter of record that "when one passes the Assembly Hall on the meeting day of the Glee Club and hears the harmonic strains emanating from within, his bosom swells with pride as he wanders at the melodious collection of voices contained in the college." Others wondered, too! The college library in those days was open from 1.15 to 3.30. An able assistant was John Roman.

The newly-organized South Boston B. C. Club chose Bill Carey as its first President. Marty Kane was entrusted as custodian of the exchequer. Lt. Paul N. A. Rooney described his first parachute jump in a letter to the "Stylus. Paul wrote: "I landed right in the middle of a telephone class from the Fort doing field work off in the country." Just another wrong number! In a subsequent talk to the class Paul claimed that the only reason he reached earth was due to the "wonderful foundation" in physics he received from Mr. (now Fr.) Lague, S.J.

The Senior Class received Communion in St. Mary's Chapel at a special Mass offered for the repose of the soul of Frank Quinn, the first B. C. man to die in the service.

Bill Cashin was elected first President of the Radio Club. Assisting him were Bill Daley and Jim Rooney. The Club made its debut into the social world in a successful party at the Capley Plaza.

Charlie Sexton penned a melodrama entitled "Blackie." It may reach Hollywood yet.

Add to the list of embryo poets the name of Tom Reynolds, with the appropriate verse "The Unknown Dead."

1919

FRANCIS J. ROLAND

11 Beacon Street, Boston, Mass.

 Fred Shea has recently been appointed chief adjudication officer of the Boston Veterans' Bureau.

As far as we know, Capt. Henry Barry and Father Joseph McNamara are at present the only representative of the class actually in the armed forces. The class boasted 18 commissioned officers in World War I. Our "Twenty-Fifth" from the Heights is drawing nearer. Please check your address with the Alumni Office. Our Secretary, "Bill" Kirby is planning a "pre Twenty-Fifth" for the near future.

Would the members of the class kindly drop a few items to the writer of these notes, so that the next issue of the NEWS will contain a complete list of present class activities?

1920

J. ROBERT BRAWLEY

30 Garden Street, West Roxbury

 William Pashby has been working hard as State Director of the American Legion's National Oratorical Contest.

Leo Aicardi's daughter, Helen, is engaged to Sergeant Edward J. Kelley of Brighton.

Father Stephen Shea has become an eminent authority on the Philippine islands since the beginning of the war. And Father George O'Donnell is first assistant to the Navy when it comes to Navigation.

1921

GORDON F. IRONS

9 Emmonsdales Road, West Roxbury

Charley Coyle, Director of Public Relations of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, recently spoke on "The Proposed Central Traffic Artery" at a meeting on "Municipal Affairs" held at the Y. W. C. A.

Jimmy Cox reported that Father John Donovan, now of Brooklyn, N. Y., recently came home for a visit.

Arthur Donovan, who served in the World War as a lieutenant, is awaiting another service assignment.

Ed Hannon was appointed referee in bankruptcy for Norfolk County by Federal judges.

Harold Sullivan has been commissioned a captain in the Air Corps.

Jerry Mahoney was chairman at the Communion Breakfast exercises held at the College on Alumni Communion Day.

Tom O'Connor, for many years a photographer for the Boston Globe, is looking forward to his son's graduation at the Heights next year.

Father James Mulloy conducted a retreat at Regis College the week of April 5.

Father John J. Donnelly of the Oblate Fathers conducted a retreat in his home parish, St. Mary's, Cambridge.

Morgan Ryan has been appointed a member of the State Tire Rationing Board.

1922

NATHANIEL J. HASENFUS

15 Kirk Street, West Roxbury

Congratulations once more, Eddie Bell, the old New England Intercollegiate Shot Put champion has added a charming daughter to his growing family — now it's two boys and a girl. And Jim Collins has a new arrival, too. It's now Assistant United States Attorney General Francis X. Daly, of Chevy-Chase, Maryland. Frank joined three other class mates in the Capitol in January — Chester Prior, Charles Daley, and Al Chapman. The class of 1918, B. C. H. S., was happy to welcome Rev. Aloysius J. Hogan, S.J., former president of Fordham and now Dean of the Georgetown Graduate School to its annual dinner in February. Father Hogan was Mr. Hogan, S.J., back in the high school days. John White was married on April 11th. The twentieth year anniversary committee of 25 men is meeting regularly at the City Club laying plans for our twentieth. Chairman is Charles F. Collins, who did so well in the Community Fund Drive. Plans are well under way for a Communion Breakfast on the 10th, Baseball party at the B. C.-H. C. game on the 11th, and the Alumni Day celebration after the game. All ex-men are cordially invited to attend all exercises.

FRANCIS L. FORD

14 Jenness Street, West Quincy

 The annual banquet of the class was held on Valentine's Night, February 14, at the University Club. Twenty members were able to be present including Father Norbert McInnis who upheld the loyalty of our clergy members.

The feature of the evening was the showing of the Boston College-Holy Cross football game pictures with many stills, repeats, and reverses to bring out the salient points of that thrilling struggle.

Graduate Manager John Curley, one of the invited guests, came through with an excellent talk. From our own fold, Dan Kelleher of Brockton enlightened and entertained us with an impromptu speech.

Our twentieth annual Laetare Sunday Communion breakfast was held on March 15 at the Heights in conjunction with the Brighton, Newton, and Brookline College Clubs. It was the most inclement kind of morning, and our numbers suffered from this, a scant dozen being able to make the affair.

The talks of Reverend Father Rector and William Nugent, noted alumnus, were enjoyed by all and were heard over the air on Station WBZ. Gaynor Wellings of our own class was general chairman of the gathering and introduced the president of the alumni, Jeremiah W. Mahoney, who in turn introduced the speakers of the morning.

Class members present were Ed Dullea, Dr. Phil McGovern, Cecil McGoldrick, Fred Oberhauser, Owen Galla- gher, George Gormley, Ed Garrity, Joe Crane, Harry Mallowney, Cornelius O'Connell, Gaynor Wellings and Frank Ford.

Because of the small numbers, the election of new officers was postponed until the banquet of 1943 — deo volente. However, there will be no decrease in salary for the present incumbents.

"Telephone Topics," January issue, a publication of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Co., tells us of the promotion of Albert F. Ripley, manager of the Chelsea branch, to that of manager of the Roslindale branch. The information was given under the department "Moving Along in our Company" and we congratulate Al on his success. In another part of the magazine was a picture of Al being feted by his co-workers at the Fox and Hounds Club.

Myles T. McSweeney, assistant city editor of the Boston Daily Record, recently wrote a fine poem in tribute to General Douglas MacArthur. It was printed in his own paper, and found its way into many others including the New York Journal-American. Myles wrote a great deal of good verse, not to mention essays and short stories, during his four year connection with the "Stylus." Myles also acted as a judge of an oratorical contest recently held at Manchester, N. H.

Jerry Coughlin returned to his task as head of the English Department at English High School on March 2. Jerry held the important position as executive secretary of the City of Boston Committee on Public Safety. It was with reluctance that Mayor Tobin consented to Jerry's return to the school department, having known the high calibre of his work for several months.

Dr. Larry McCarthy would have been one of the sure attenders at our banquet, but he is now in the service of the Navy and subject to emergency calls at the Chelsea Naval Hospital where he is stationed.

Walter Dimmock is especially proud when he shows you mail received from his son in the United States Marine Corps. Walter, himself, looks fit and trim enough to step in and kick up a lot of dust on his own. This new Marine, by the way, is the class baby of 1923.

Tom Eccles of the England Department of English High School is president of the Boston High School Masters Association, and is working assiduously to keep the organization in high gear.

Louis Tracy is doing excellent work in the Division of Rehabilitation of the State Department of Education.

Al Bedard has a beautiful home at Manhasset, N. Y., where he recently entertained Jerry Caughlin over a week-end.

Jim Reardon is back in the western part of the state where he is doing a splendid job as superintendent of the schools of Lenox, Mass.

Fred Oberhauser is successfully practicing law in and around the Hub.

In the army we have Major John McCloskey on active duty, not in the United States.

William J. Barry, master of the Michaelangelo District of the North End of Boston, was recently appointed by the Boston School Committee as assistant superintendent. This is one of the finest positions ever to be held by a member of our class, and we congratulate Bill on his success. Bill has always been active in the Foresters, and just before his new appointment was chairman of the State Civil Defense Committee of the M. C. O. F.

Tony Comerford is now a Probation Officer connected with the East Boston District Court.

The Reverend William J. Callahan is at the Gate of Heaven Church, South Boston.

Our deepest condolence goes out to Walter Mayo whose beloved wife passed away in the early part of March. Requiescat in pace.

NOTICE TO EX-'23 MEMBERS — For some unknown reason you have been neglected by us in the past. The present officers welcome you to attend a few affairs which we have each year. Our complete mailing list contains your names, and you will hear from us regularly in the future. We feel that many of you have always been silently loyal.

So long until the fall. Keep in touch with your president and reporter, Frank L. Fard, who is at your service—for the Duration—of his term.

WILLIAM ARTHUR REILLY
14 Arborway, Jamaica Plain

 We are indebted to Rev. Richard

J. Hawko, Chaplain, 10th C. A., Fort Adams, R. I., for the notice that Father Bill Collins is Chaplain in the U. S. Navy at the sub-base in New London, Conn., and Father Charles DeCoursey is Chaplain in the United States Army at Fort Preble, Maine.

Captain George MacNeil of the Chemical Warfare Division is the only other uniformed member of the class known so far.

Fred Mohony has been elected President of the Commonwealth Country Club. Fred started as a caddy there during his school days. If you would like to get into this famous old club now is your chance while Fred is at the head of it. It was in Fred's day as a caddy that the famous golf law became necessary; namely, that "no ball may be considered lost until it stops rolling." It was Phil Dillon, another golf enthusiast who once said to Fred, "Shall I keep score or do you concede defeat now?" Fred claimed it was like trying to answer the question, "Do you still beat your wife?"

Dan Lynch, former secretary to Governor Saltanstill, has opened his own law office in Boston.

Bill Doyle led a group of motion picture exhibitors and distributors in a retreat at Andover on March 27th. A committee to conduct a class meeting sometime between now and Commencement Time is being formed. Bring your helmet and gas mask, I'll furnish the extinguishers.

A Class Directory will be mailed to class members soon so that those desiring to correspond with one another may know the latest address as recorded at the Alumni Office on April 1, 1942.

Herb Finnegan was down South with the local baseball teams reporting on major league baseball for the Boston American.

1926

WILLIAM J. CUNNINGHAM
40 Tennyson Street, West Roxbury

 Tom Herlihy has left the milk business for the duration. He is a Lieutenant Commander in the Navy on active duty at Norfolk, Va.

It was with regret that the class learned of the death of Grattan O'Connell in Simsbury, Conn., in March. John Curley, representing the Graduate Board, and Jerry Mahaney, the Alumni, attended the funeral services.

Dr. Gorman received a note from Mrs. O'Connell thanking the class for its expression of sympathy.

LLOYD L. DOYLE
279 Bowdoin Street, Dorchester

 Monday, May 11, classmates, is Alumni Day. Why not plan to drop around and look over your Alma Mater and meet your fellow alumni? As is customary, a classroom will be assigned to us for a little personal gathering.

Our contribution to the armed forces is on the increase: Joe Carty, Army; Jack McGillivray, Army; Father Leo McCann, Chaplain-1st Lieutenant, Army; Father Jerry Gill, Chaplain, Navy; Father John Collohan, Chaplain, Army, 1st Lieutenant, Camp Edwards; Joseph Green, M. P., Edwards; "Jerry" Mulligan, Aviator, Army.

The class expressed its deepest sympathy to Bernie McManus, of Cambridge, on the recent death of his mother.

Father "Bill" Casey was the guest speaker at the Dorchester Boston College Alumni Communion Breakfast, Sunday, March 15, 1942. Charlie Leonard was chairman of the occasion, and did a good job. Dan Driscoll, the president of the club, was toastmaster.

The Fred L'Ecuys of West Roxbury have been blessed with the arrival of a baby boy, another halfback for Denny Myers. Fred is with the Boston & Maine R. R. as traffic representative.

The St. Patrick girls' basketball team of Roxbury won the parochial high school girls' championship, ably directed by Father John Lorden.

Congratulations to coach "Snooks" Kelley on his election to President of the B. C. Club of Cambridge. Met Bill Daley, formerly of Medford, a few weeks ago, now residing in Milton.

I see where Walter Gaudet is the spark plug for the B. C. Club out Hyde Park way.

By way of the grapevine, our pal "Pat" Thompson is a County Supervisor of State Welfare in upstate New York.

Local successes—the appointment of "Fren" Moncewicz on the Board of Assessors, City of Boston. Paging Bernie Donahue or Bill Cashman to contact this man.

Father Thomas Murphy, S.J., is located at Saint Mory's Church, Boston. Jim Fitzgerald is located with the Unemployment Department, Beacon St. John E. O'Loughlin who received his Ph.D. from B. C., in 1928, is head of the department of Social Studies at Somerville High School. This year he is president of the N. E. Council for the Social Studies, and is a member of the Advisory Board of "Social Education," the monthly publication of the National Council for the Social Studies.

Does anyone hear or see the following: John Andosca, John Cahill, Bill Dimarzio, Jake Healey, John Bagley, Pat Clinton, Al Druggan, John Hughes, Joseph Bradley, George Corcoran, Mickey Drummey, Dinny Manning? Election of Class Officers will be held on Alumni Day. This is the official notice. If any classmate cannot attend and wishes to vote by proxy, just jot down four names as your candidates for any office and send them along to me. Incidentally, this job is open—did someone say it ought to be?

See you Alumni Day. Fourteen years out — 15th coming up.

DAVID E. HOCKMAN

Information reaching me prompts this letter, to which I expect no reply:
Boston College
April 13, 1942

Personnel
U. S. Navy Yard
Norfolk, Virginia

Dear Sirs:

About the end of April there will arrive in your midst a man whom you will immediately respect, soon admire, and later grow to love. He will come to you as a commissioned officer, without previous military training, but that you will excuse. He will smile a great deal, and the sparkle of his wit will fulfill the promise gleaming in his eyes. He will teach you a love of God and of country that will sear deep into your souls.

Sixteen years ago next September he adopted us, or we adopted him—time makes the point contestable. For two years he led us through the trials of early Christianity, the Holy Roman Empire, the Emperor Augustus, and our favorites, Pippin the Short, and Pippin the Bald. For all four years of our study at Boston College he was the confidante and adviser of us, his problem children. For the twelve years since we graduated he has been our ever constant friend and spiritual adviser. He was, is, and ever will be a man — o man of God.

In the record of the Navy, he will be listed as Lieutenant Francis V. Sullivan and will be assigned the duties of a Chaplain. In our hearts and in our prayers he will be "Father Frank." Take good care of him boys. Father is only a loan. We want him back.

Very sincerely yours,

The Class of 1930.

Plans are underway for the Annual Alumni Day get-together. As this is our tenth year we would like to make a very good showing and see as many of the Class of '32 as possible. A room will be set aside as usual for the Class of '32 where we will meet before the "Cross" game. Among the recent benedicts in the class is Dr. Charles Calery, who was married to Miss Isla Hanley on April 20, 1942. The newlyweds will reside in Norwood where Charlie is practicing. He also has an office in Brookline.

Congratulations to Bill Galvin who recently has been appointed principal of the Crone Grammar School in Canton.

Corps of a unit located at Camp Edwards.

JOSEPH P. KEATING

10 Coolidge Avenue, Natick

 Once again the boys in the armed services go to the head of the class (news). Each time we write about the different fellows going into the service, where they are located, what they are doing, etc., qualms of conscience cause us to wonder whether such news will be censored, since such items might "furnish aid and comfort to the enemy." However, second thought reveals that such information about our "fightin' thirty-sixers" should bring just the opposite results and be very disturbing to the grinders of the Axis.

Sergeant Sam Leavis of Somerville has been attending the Officers' Training School at Camp Edwards and is on the teaching staff. Some has moved right along since joining the forces and will soon be causing MacArthur to look to his laurels. Jim Dalton, likewise from Somerville, has cast his lot with Uncle Sam's Navy and is now readying himself to do his bit. Likeable Paul McGready from Watertown has likewise joined the naval forces. Friend Paul, ex-gold captain, is now in able-bodied seamen.

Tom Sherman is another classmate who felt the urge to "go down to the sea in ships." Tom is also in the Navy and is at present stationed at the Recruiting Station in the Federal Building, Boston. He looks very dapper in the navy blue — and assures me that he will give a very warm welcome to any who care to drop in and see him on either business or pleasure, especially the farmer. Henry Beaugreard, who only recently returned to Boston to become associated with a Boston Law Office, has successfully passed the Massachusetts Bar exam. But what is probably more important to Henry, he also successfully passed the requirements for a naval commission. He has been commissioned as an Ensign in the Ordnance Division of the U. S. N.

Dr. Ed Kickham, at present interning at St. Joseph's Hospital in Providence, expects to be commissioned in the Army Medical Corps upon completion of his internship in June. Lieut. Joseph "Jocko" Killion, Jr., U. S. A., of Malden, was married on February 26th to Miss Ruth T. Burke of West Roxbury at a nuptial mass in the Holy Name Church, West Roxbury. Brather Tom Killion was best man. Stationed at Fort Lee, Va., "Jocko" and his bride will have a temporary home in Richmond. Danny Baudreau of East Boston, who was in the debutante class at the Social Service School, is now in the Army Air Corps Basic Training School at Greenville, Miss. Dan's particular job is to organize and operate a Red Cross Field Office. Since he made the switch last fall from the Catholic Charitable Bureau in Baltimore to the Red Cross staff, Danny had been in several parts of the South. Despite the southern hospitality, southern belles (maybe you're married, Dan) and southern climate Danny's theme song seems to be "Carry Me Back to Old New England."

Joe Horvey, to whom we owe thanks for the news about Monsieur Baudreau, is with the Boston Globe. Joe claims to be "in the dark" about many things, but only because — I presume — he is working nights. Tom Duffy of Wellesley is now associated with the General Electric office staff in Lynn, and Hub Carroll is with the Postoffice department in Boston. No, Bridget, he is not a pony-express rider.

Eddie Buxton is working for General Electric.

EDWARD M. GREELEY

7 Connecticut Avenue, Somerville

 When Denny Myers spoke to us at the Communion Breakfast on March 8th, old T100 rang out with laughter from the 50 or more classmates in attendance. The Mass, food, and speeches were great. The only complaint was that there wasn't sufficient time to chin with each classmate.

Some 109 cards were returned to Proxy Joy out of about 300 or so sent. Sixty-five said they were unable to attend and that out of these 16 were in the Navy, nine in the Army, four in the Marines, and two in the Coast Guard. Much of the news presented here was taken from these returned cards.

Malloy is in Key West, Fla., while his classmate Ensign Roger Battles is in the Canal Zone. Ensign Jeremiah A. Cronin is on active duty at sea. Ensign Charles B. Thornton is reported in the Canal Zone. Joe Costigan, that handsome lad, is at the Pensacola Air Station. Midshipman F. J. Cosgrove is still in the United States.

This seems to be all notes on men in the service but if you are still reading, here's some more. Stephen Connelly has enlisted. Norman A. Bourget is a lieutenant in the Army Air Corps. Joe Waters visited the Alma Mater a short time ago and tells us that his work with the Etched Products Co. is of electrachemical nature. He supervises the plating of articles with chromium, copper, and so on. His present address is 5101 39th Avenue, Long Island City, N. Y. Paul Tondorf appends the short note to his card saying he is bothered by the draft. Hope he doesn't catch cold.

He's a private and is in Australia. Walter Sullivan has journeyed west to become a bombardier in the Army Air Force. Joe Roache of Somerville is now in Alabama with the Air Force. Bill Duffy has completed his Navy Flying course at Squantum and is going down to Florida. Arthur Joyce is with the Army. Also Lieut. William Nash.

There are still 16 classmates at Tufts Medical School. Most of these fellows are joining some branch of the service so they may remain studying. Bob Magwood has received his commission as a Second Lieutenant in the Army Medical Corps. Bill Powers, Bill Sweeney, and Ed Healey have joined the Navy as Ensigns in the Reserve. These men will graduate most probably in December, 1943. They will then be given a year's internship according to present plans in an approved hospital.

Charlie Leonard, Gene McAuliffe, and Jim Russell are all employed by the Mass. Bonding Co., in Post Office Square. Jimmy Fitzgerald is now secretary to the Mayor of Malden. John Masterson has received an offer from Northeastern University to remain there as an instructor when he receives his M.S. in Chemistry this year. Charlie McCarthy and Tom Powers have received their orders to report at Notre Dame on April 15 to become Ensigns in the Naval Reserve. Jim Supple is teaching in the Boston School system. Harry Ringer is working on those fine superchargers at General Electric Co. Joe Driscoll has enlisted in the Coast Guard. Herb Sullivan, still sporting that fine soup-strainer, is a First Lieutenant in the Liason Division of the Army at 150 Causeway Street, in Boston.

Frank Diskin was home for a few days due to his father's grave illness. Frank is with the Paulist Fathers at St. Paul's College in Brooklond, Washington, D. C. You may reach him at that address.

Bill Kiniry was fortunate enough to have his lady friend travel from Somerville to the west coast to marry him. Mrs Kiniry is the former Miss Irene Durant, a teacher in the Somerville School system. It is reported that George McNamara met Ensign Joe Murray, who is of the class of 1937, in Australia. As you probably already know Father Anthony G. Carroll, former chemistry teacher of B. C., is also in Australia.

So-long until next year. God bless you all.

As the war continues and more and more of our classmates enter the service, it is appropriate that we here mention the entrance of a highly esteemed member of the Faculty into the Chaplain Corps — the Rev. This is to acknowledge it and to thank him. George Kerr underwent a minor operation at St. Elizabeth's Hospital during his recent Easter vacation from his studies at St. John's Seminary. His fellow Seminararians, Joe Maguire and John Kinchla, were also home for a few days, both looking fine.

Tom Cook is with the Naval Air Corps. Well, that seems to be about all the notes that are hand for the moment, fellows, and as this is the last issue for the current term I want to thank those of you who have written, called or dropped in for a chat. Undoubtedly a great many changes are yet to come and by the time our September NEWS is being prepared many of us will be far removed from our present pursuits. So, come what may, many thanks — and may we soon soldier together.
